A GLANCE AT THE NOMINEES.

The democratic nominees have now been before the people for one month, and nearly all of them have given the public an opportunity to judge of their qualifications for the offices to which they aspire. In its make-up the ticket is thoroughly representative of all sections of the county, and so wise was the action of the nominating convention that every name on the ticket adds to its Carr are able to bring against him is His judgment, energy, bravery and integrity are admitted by all, and not even the mud-slinging champion of the independent candidate has dared and he will exercise in the discharge of his official duties that executive ability which his successful business career has demonstrated that he possesses in so large a degree.

Of A. T. Jones, the nominee for recorder, it is scarcely necessary to speak. He is personally known by nearly every voter in the county. His honesty and efficiency are equally well known, and on these qualifications he confidently relies for elec-

TO TAXPAYERS AND VOTERS.

It is claimed by the Neagle organ -and a sad tune it plays, by the way, wheezy and full of stops-that its candidate is the representative of law and justice; that his election means peace and order to the comofficer of the county there will be no violation of the law but what willbe followed by strict and impartial action on his part in suppressing, arresting and prosecuing the transgressors.
